Unique center opens

SOUTH BAY—When Villa Largo Child Development Center opened its doors last week, it was the only one of its kind in Palm Beach County, the result of a coordinated effort of private enterprise and the public school system.

The center, designed to eventually take care of 70 preschool children of South Bay Growers workers, was built by South Bay Growers and is the result of more than two years of joint planning.

H.W. "Dick" Berryman, said planning of the center began in early 1976. He said that according to the agreement, South Bay Growers built the center, furnished it and is supplying equipment, materials, utilities and maintenance.

In their turn, the Palm Beach

County School Board is using Title I Migrant funds to supply a staff and food services.

"Eventually," Berryman said, "we'll have a projected staff of four teachers, eight teachers' assistants and one social educator. Right now, we have 35 children between the ages of two and four and a staff of one teacher and five assistants with the coordinator Mrs. Gloria Darville, who also teaches."

He said Mrs. Darville's title is Early Childhood Coordinator and teacher, with responsibilities for the Villa Largo center and three other centers located at Grove, Rosenwald and Belle Glade Elementary Schools.

Mrs. Darville said the center is meant to take care of children of South Bay Growers employees at Villa Largo and one other South Bay Growers housing project.

By the time the center is fully staffed, Mrs. Darville said, there will be at least one teacher for every one of the four classrooms.

She said the children are also fed two meals, including breakfast and lunch, and an afternoon snack. The daily schedule also calls for instruction in language arts, musical arts, physical exercise and group activities.

Berryman noted that South Bay Growers had completely equipped the center with materials and equipment suggested by the school administrators.

Library notes Vets Day

BELLE GLADE—The Municipal Library is celebrating Veteran's Day Saturday with a month-long display of mementos from wars past, including photographs of local servicemen in uniform, ration cards, uniforms, books and other displays.

Librarian Phyllis Lilley said the ration cards being shown in a glass display case belonged to her grandmother. They were good toward the purchases of such diverse merchandise as shoes, gas, sugar and cigarettes.

There are two large poster boards covered with photographs of Glades area men in World Wars I and II, Korea and Vietnam.

One photograph on display is a shot of the Enola Gay, the B-29 Superfortress bomber that dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima. The photo was taken by City Building Inspector Kenneth Retterer, who was serving on Tinian, where the bomber was stationed, at the time.

Miss Lilley, who said the library will be closed Friday in observation of the holiday, indicated the displays will be kept up for the rest of November.

WARS PAST are being remembered at the Municipal Library this month. Librarian Phyllis Lilley holds her grandmother's ration cards over a poster of local servicemen's photos.

Tom Jones to be presented

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Glades Central High School International Thespian Society will present their version of Tom Jones at 8:14 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

The play is based on one of the first novels ever written and portrays the adventures of an illegitimate son in 18th Century

England. A movie was released on the same subject in the mid '60s and Sarah Bennett, the play's sponsor, said the play is much the same, "except it's cleaned up a little."

The comedy begins when Tom, played by Cirilo Garcia, falls in love with Sophia, portrayed by Alicia Lancaster, the daughter of a prominent family. He is banished from his hometown for this indiscretion.

Tom begins his journey to London, "the dirtiest, darkest hole in the world," unaware Sophia has already left her home in search of him. En route, they are both ac-

State Fire Marshal praises local chief

SOUTH BAY—Fire Chief James Webber was commended this week by State Treasurer and State Fire Marshall Bill Gunter for his work over a six week period in making sure a load of more than 500 blasting caps were removed from the side of US 27.

Webber said Wednesday his main concern was making sure there were no caps scattered inside the city limits, "and there wasn't a single one," but on five separate occasions, he helped pick up the dangerous explosives, the last time walking six miles in his search. The chief said the matter is still under investigation but blasting caps were scattered for 25 miles south of town and for at least another mile north of town.

He said he understands the caps were bought by a man in Miami who intended to ship them to his construction company in Maryland but United Parcel Service refused to handle them the way they were packed.

"The word I have," Webber went on, "is that he said he threw them into a dumpster in Miami and someone else apparently got them from the dumpster and started scattering them along the side of US 27."

"Some of the caps were damaged, some were in good shape, some were broken open," he said, "and the safety pins had been removed from some so they could easily have gone off."

Webber said the first caps were found on Aug. 25 just north of the city limits and a number were retrieved that day. More were found two days later when a Florida Highway Patrol Trooper got out of his cruiser after stopping a speeder and almost stepped on one. A total of 16 were found that day.

After more had been found on Sept. 3 and Oct. 2, Webber said he called the state fire marshal's office in Miami, "and told them we weren't out of the woods yet."

"Then on Oct. 5," he went on, "Investigator Bob Coleman (of the Fire Marshal's office) and I walked the road for six miles and found another 51 caps."

"On behalf of the members of my staff and for the citizens of Florida," Gunter wrote in a letter read in the South Bay City Commission meeting Tuesday night, "I want to take this opportunity to compliment you (Mayor Billy Wells) on the perseverance and dedication of the personnel of South Bay Fire Department."

"It is through the efforts of such dedicated people (as Chief Webber) that the safety of the citizens of our great State is preserved," Gunter wrote.

Bailey was County Commissioner Bill Bailey's father."

Noting there won't be another general election for another two years, Mrs. Dulaney said her husband and sister had asked her to give up her clerk's position.

"John told me 42 years was enough," she said, "so I told him all right and I told Mrs. Winchester and she asked me to recommend a replacement for clerk."

Ironically, Mrs. Dulaney said Tuesday, her last day on the job as an elections clerk, was also the day her husband decided to come out of retirement...for the third time.

Elections remembered

BELLE GLADE—Tuesday was a day for voting for most people but for Miriam Dulaney, it was a day to vote, to supervise voters and to reminisce about elections she's helped supervise since 1936.

"I was thinking about that (the 1936 election) the other night," Mrs. Dulaney said Tuesday, while keeping an eye on the action at Precinct 97, "and I called Elmer Jones. He was the clerk then and I was an inspector."

Mrs. Dulaney said the main thing she remembers about the election which marked Franklin Delano Roosevelt's first bid for re-election was the number of hours she worked.

"We started work at 6 a.m.," she said, "and we worked all that day, all that night and finally finished at 4 p.m. the next day."

She said the reason for the long hours was the fact voters were using the paper ballots, remarking she's used the paper ballots, lever machines and now the Votomatic introduced in Palm Beach County last year by Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester.

Mrs. Dulaney said that in that 1936 election, after the counting had proceeded far into the night, many of the workers were nodding every time a Roosevelt vote was counted, and the vast majority of the votes were for Roosevelt, and every time a Landon vote was counted the workers woke up.

She said another thing she remembered about the election was that Jones had a bad cold, something she said he told here this week was aggravated by his many trips into the meat locker of Clarence Bailey's general store.

"Mr. Jones was the butcher for Mr. Bailey," she said. "And Mr.

Moore BBQ held

BELLE GLADE—Republican Reid Moore, running for re-election to the District 79 State House of Representatives seat, was the guest of honor last Wednesday at a fund raiser barbeque held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ward.

MIRIAM DULANEY (facing camera) reminisced Tuesday about elections past as she helped voters get ready for the polls.

It was pretty peaceful around the Lampton homestead up until a couple of days ago...the television was on the blink.

And with a two-year-going-on-twenty son Burke, the disaster of not being able to arise at 7:00 a.m. and watch Spiderman was too great a burden to bear.

So we invested in a television and things are back to more-or-less normal.

Which brings me to the power of television advertising. To a youngster, the color illustrations of toys and happy children playing with them, along with the catchy jingles, will bring on more "wants" than a Mississippi hound dog has fleas.

Such is the case with Burke. During the calm before the storm phase all he could think up to want for Christmas was a "big gun and some targets." The size and expense of his Santa list has increased now in direct proportion to the number of commercials on Spiderman.

Now he has demanded a Spiderman doll, a Tootyville Choo Choo, four or five different plastic and therefore easily destroyed games of various kinds, and a dozen or so associated pastimes that could easily cost his hard-pressed parents something over a thousand dollars.

I begin to long for the days of Before Television when children were delighted with a stocking full of trinkets and firecrackers.

And I realize I may be rushing Christmas, but whatever did happen to firecrackers for the Fourth and Christmas?

When I was a kid, Black Cats and roman candles were the highlight of the holidays. I shudder to think how many times we came close to blowing ourselves to oblivion or at least ending our little lives as cinders following a roman candle battle.

But we didn't. Though there were some who probably did. Which is why firecrackers are no longer with us as much as they once were.

ban-firecracker addicts were right in getting laws passed against their use. Sometimes it is best to protect us from ourselves.

Now that the elections are over, I hope everyone got their man in office. But since that is not possible, I hope you can live with whomever went into office.

And failing that, grin and bear it. This political season was more toughly fought than many in the past. Charges, counter-charges, mud-slinging and dirt flew so thickly through the air that it was hard for even those of us who were merely interested spectators to duck every time.

Of course, there were races where the tone was low-key and the candidates didn't shake hands in public and cuss out the opposition in private.

But they were in the minority. From governor through the charter vote, it was hard to believe some of the antics.

And this isn't something new to American voters. It appears the more lively the race, the more are the voters who turn out to cast their ballots.

But spathy is still apparent. Who wants to watch a debate between Graham and Eckerd when the Dolphins are playing Dallas on another channel?

Boo, hiss!

Maybe Martin County High School Principal Clara Fulton had the right idea when she said the school might just ignore the state playoff and stay in Suncoast Conference East rather than change districts to one made up of schools of Brevard County.

That, if enough schools decided to go along, might be better than kowtowing to a dictatorial Florida High School Activities Association Executive Committee which seems to care little or nothing about individual schools and players.

That's the same committee, by the way, which forced Glades Central to forfeit two games because Johnny Rowe, a native son whose father was ordered overseas to serve the United States in the Army, was declared ineligible to play those first two games, although it's all right for him to finish out the season now the committee has had its put back stroked.

It's also the same committee which has put Pahokee High School in the position of having to choose whether it wants to continue playing traditional rivals or have a chance to play in the state playoffs.

It also happens to be the same committee which airily and arrogantly dismissed an appeal on Rowe's behalf because no one happened to show up Saturday for a special hearing.

That was the same day the same committee ignored a plea by Mrs. Fulton on behalf of her school, suggesting any number of alternatives just so long as the committee wouldn't have to back down on its decision.

Everyone, apparently, can back down or change courses but the almighty FHSAA Executive Committee, who was supposedly seated to protect the interests of students and schools but who is just as obviously on an ego trip and doesn't want to be disturbed, thank yew.

Well, maybe Mrs. Fulton is right. Maybe it's time the schools whose interests aren't being considered take the attitude they're not going to be bothered by a committee insensitive to their needs and the needs of their students.

It's even possible that's what it will take to sensitize the committee to the needs of the students and schools...at least enough to get the committee back to doing its job.

Smoking taxes

"The abortive Volstead Act gave the nation the public joke of prohibition," according to a recent news release from an organization calling itself the Tobacco Tax Council, "and nurtured the rise of Al Capone."

"Al Capone gave Florida its first world-famous hoodlum-in-residence," the release goes on, with the comment that it will be "interesting...and perhaps more than a little frightening," to see what the 21 cents per pack cigarette tax rate will give Florida if cigarette bootlegging is allowed to continue to flourish.

True enough. But what the council proposes, following its factual little spiel about Florida's tobacco tax, admittedly the highest state tax in the nation, parts company with common sense.

To prevent the latching on of organized crime, which knows a windfall profit when it sees one, to the practice of bootlegging cigarettes from North Carolina, the council calls for the cooperation of the state's citizenry.

It also calls for a "concerted campaign to rid Florida of cigarette bootlegging and the havoc it reaps...at whatever expense...or with whatever legal means that are necessary."

"Although Florida's 21 cents per pack levy on cigarettes was hurriedly conceived, was extremely shortsighted, and is atrociously expensive to enforce, it is the law of the state," the release goes on.

The odd thing is that all those shortcomings were pointed out to the state legislature last year when the tax rate was increased on cigarettes, beer, wine and whiskey.

But our learned leaders thought they knew best and decided to tack on that extra little bit of tax. After all, nobody had screamed too loudly or too long when taxes on those same products were raised again and again in the past.

The final result, however, is a law as ludicrous as the Volstead Act and the state law could best be remedied in much the same way.

Not that excise taxes should be completely repealed on cigarettes and potables; they are, after all, the kind of luxuries which should be taxed an extra amount to provide needed income for the state's coffers.

Before levying this kind of unconscionable tax, however, other sources, such as excise taxes on candy, soft drinks and chewing gum, not to mention other tobacco products, should be considered.

It doesn't make sense to tax anything to the point it becomes more attractive when it is bootlegged. Nor does it make sense to continue to pile taxes on something because a segment of society believes it's immoral to use the product.

The answer, if the legislators are interested, in keeping bootlegged cigarettes out of the state isn't stricter enforcement. That's the road to the point of diminishing returns. All they have to do is roll back the taxes to a reasonable level.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

O-k-a-y, Sports fans, looks like it's time for another lesson on why Johnny can't read but this time the evidence doesn't come from reports filed with an unnamed governmental agency.

I still say, as I did a couple weeks ago, the evidence is piling up that the reason Johnny can't read is that Mom and Pop can't write.

So gather round, friends, Romans and countrymen. Lend me your eyes for another foray into the feeble foolishness that passes nowadays for the King's English in the form of excuses received by a school for student absences.

The source, by the way, if from the February issue of Lunch Bell Magazine, or so we're told.

"Please excuse Wayne," one feeble mother wrote, "for being out yesterday because he had the flu." I figure if he had enough, it might arouse the interest of Uncle Jimmy's energy people.

"I kept Billie home," another mother wrote, "because she had to go Christmas shopping I didn't know what size she was wearing." So much for the idea of surprising Billie with a gift, no matter size she wear. The note may have been a surprise to Billie's teacher though.

There wasn't any surprise, either, in why another mother kept her daughter home. "My daughter couldn't come to school Monday because she was tired. She spent the weekend with some Marines." Marines! Oh that to you every time, they say.

And then, "Lillie was absent from school yesterday as she had a gang over." This one simply begs the question of how many were in the gang, what the name of the gang was and why they were "over" wherever "over" was.

On the other hand, "Ralph was absent yesterday because of a sour trout." But I guess that's better than having a bitter bass.

But the lady whose son had the really big problem didn't seem to know who she ought to address her complaint to so she started out, "Dear School: please excuse John for being absent on January 28, 31, 32, 33. Chris have an acre in his side."

That one raised any number of questions, such as why John had to be excused because Chris had an acre in his side, just how much bigger than Paul Bunyon Chris was and when, oh when, was January given another three days...and by whom those three kids who had some really off-the-wall medical problems. "Mary could not go to school because she was bothered by very close veins."

There were three kids who had been absent because he had two tooth aches out of a few. "John (same guy?) was absent yesterday because he had a stomach." (Well, I should hope so...even if he did have a tooth taken out he face.)

"My son," one loving mother wrote, "is under the doctor's care and should not be in P.E. Please excuse him. Just because he can't do pushups?"

Poor Blanch had a different excuse though. "Please excuse Blanch from P.E. for a few days. Yesterday she fell out of a tree and misplaced her hip." I understand she's still looking for it too but maybe she can find it if she feels around some more trees.

"Please excuse Sandra from being absent yesterday," pleaded another mom. "She was in bed with gramps." She must've had the same problem as Gloria, who "been sick and under the doctor."

Joey and Joyce had different problems, though I'll be the first to admit I'm not sure what those problems were.

"Please excuse Joyce Friday," one note read. "He had loose vowels." There is a possibility Joyce's English teacher knew that all along.

"Please excuse Joyce from Jim today," the last note says. "She is attending to him." I'm sure that if the principal explains the situation lucidly enough, Jim won't mind excusing Joyce at all.

Sugar price is 15¢ lb.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland announced this week that steps are being taken to support the market price of sugar at 15 cents per pound, raws sugar basis.

Bergland's statement followed the President Carter's weekend decision to take administrative action to meet the 15-cent price objective which the Administration endorsed in the closing weeks of the 96th Congress.

The Administration has been using fees and duties on imported sugar to prevent sugar prices in the U.S. from falling below the statutory minimum price support loan rate of 52.5 percent of parity. The loan rate for 1977 crop sugar was 13.5 cents per pound; the 1978 loan rate is 14.73 cents.

"There's no doubt it helps," said Dalton Yancey, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League in Clewiston, "but it's still below our production figures."

Yancey said Florida sugar cane growers believe University of Florida economist Dr. D.L. Brooks is closer to the mark with his estimate that it costs an average of 16 cents for growers throughout the cane-producing area to produce a pound of sugar.

"Some of the more efficient growers will make some money," he said, "but other won't."

Yancey said the League will be meeting with representatives of the administration and other members of the United States Sweeteners Association "between now and the first of January to attempt to draw up a bill, "which all the effected parties can work with."

He said the growers' goal is to stabilize prices for consumers and protect domestic sugar production.

"We have started to work on a proposed proclamation which the President would issue to permit continued reliance on the fee-and-duty method to keep prices from falling below the 15-cent level," Bergland said.

"At the same time, we will begin regular consultation with Customs officials to monitor sugar imports from countries not party to the International Sugar Agreement (ISA). The President has made it clear that he will not hesitate to use his authority to limit imports from countries who are not participants in the ISA if Customs monitoring should disclose that those imports exceed the levels permitted by the ISA," Bergland said.

The secretary also restated the Administration's "strong commitment" to the ratification of the ISA which the President has called "essential to avoid deterioration of the world market and hopefully to continue the recovery of the world sugar prices."

Bergland said the President has agreed to support legislation in the next Congress, which convenes in January, to provide a domestic sugar program as well as the authority for the U.S. to carry out its obligations under the ISA. The Administration also will seek Senate ratification of the ISA early in the 96th Congress.

In other actions related to sugar, the Secretary announced that he has under consideration a recommendation to extend the loan maturity date on 1977 crop now in storage. Such an extension would offer additional opportunity for sugar under loan to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) to be redeemed and sold in the marketplace.

Citizens invited to tree dedication

A program on Nicaraguan people and their living conditions, and plans for dedicating Lone Cypress Park were highlights of the November Calusa Valley Historical Society meeting in Moore Haven Thursday.

Oscar and Sara Grogan of Lakeport illustrated their talks with a series of color slides made during their year and a half of volunteer service in a Mission Hospital Center in Bilwaskarma, during 1976-78. Details of the still primitive conditions among the Mosquit Indians who are natives and of the efforts to improve their health and education standards were shown in the series of slides.

Ben Swendsen reported that only a small amount of work remains for completing Lone Cypress Park in Moore Haven, and that a work day is set for Saturday, November 11. He invited any interested persons to bring hoe, rake, or trowel and join several Lions Club members who have volunteered to work that day. Removing wild grass and planting shrubbery is scheduled.

Plans for the public dedication at 3 p.m. Sunday November 19, were presented by Mrs. Beryl Bowden, and members voted approval upon recommendation of the executive board.

Society members voted to purchase a portable public address system, using funds it derived from sale of Lawrence Will's books in the Clewiston area.

Glades Historical Society extended an invitation to the local society to meet with them in Belle Glade Public Library December 7th. The two societies held meetings at the same time. Kyle Van Landingham of Fort Pierce, will be the speaker. Members voted to accept the invitation.

A child's first attempts at printing require deep concentration and great effort. However, with patience and practice he becomes more adept and lettering is easier. Then he is ready for the next step, learning to write.

The Lord expects us to put forth an effort to improve ourselves.

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for men and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Raider homecoming dimmed by 25-13 loss

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central Raiders, for the second consecutive week, dominated an opponent statistically, only to fall victim to penalties and the half-back pass in a 25-13 loss to Martin County.

Once again, both Johnny Rowe and Archie Godfrey picked up more running yardage than the entire opposing team, with Rowe carrying the ball 20 times for 205 yards and Godfrey making 12 carries for 75 yards, compared to the Tigers' total of 59 yards.

But if the Raiders mounted an impressive running attack, it seemed as though virtually every threat in the first half of the game was nullified or called back by penalties and the Tigers' halfback option pass play caught the Raider defense by surprise several times in the game.

The Raiders' penchant for penalties started early in the game Friday, during the first series of plays after Johnny Dixon picked up a fumble on the second play of the game on his own 34 yard line.

Eight plays later, quarterback Terry Hammond, who had relied on Rowe and Godfrey to get the ball to the Tiger 19, scrambled to the 14, only to have a flag on the play put the ball back on the Tiger 42. Rows carried the ball back to the 17 on the next play another penalty put the ball back on the Raider 48 yard line.

On the next play, Hammond connected with Willie Williams on the Martin County 29 and two plays later, the third penalty in the series gave the ball to the Tigers on their own 20.

Before the Tigers had a chance to get off their first play from scrimmage, another penalty advanced the ball to their 25. The Tigers choked on their own 34 and the Raiders took a punt on their own 33, advancing the ball to their own 40 before another penalty pushed them back to their own 19.

The Tigers' first halfback option pass caught the Raiders by surprise two plays later, after the Raiders had punted out to the 50, and took a 6-0 lead with 20 seconds left in the first quarter.

The Raiders were hurt by another penalty cast in the second quarter when the Tigers were threatening and Nathaniel Stinson picked off a Martin County pass on the Glades Central five and ran it back to the Tiger 20 before being run down. The interception was nullified by a roughing the passer penalty and the ball was placed on the Raider four yard line, setting up the Tigers' second score.

For the second time, the Tigers fluffed the point after kick and the Tigers led, 12-0 with 2:34 left in the half.

Two plays after the kickoff, the Tigers scored again when Terry Hammond's pass into the flat was tipped off the fingers of a Raider receiver. The ball hit the ground and the Raiders obviously thought the ball was dead.

A Martin County runner picked up the ball, however, and scrambled into the end zone with it. Officials ruled the pass a lateral and said the ball was still in play and the TD counted, giving the Tigers an 18-0 lead going into the half.

By the end of the first half, the Raiders had amassed a total of 65 yards in penalties. The Tigers were assessed no penalties in that time and went on to collect only 45 yards for the game compared to 165 yards for the Raiders.

Glades Central put together its only successful long drive of the game, beginning late in the third quarter on its own 20 yard line after Martin County punted into the

THE MAN who could have possibly made the difference Friday night was Greg Bain, the Raiders' ace pass receiver and pass defense specialist. But Bain was sidelined the week before in the Suncoast game.

Devils celebrate with victory over Jupiter

A strong running game paved the way for two touchdowns in the first half of Pahokee High School's (PHS) homecoming game to put the Blue Devils over the Jupiter Warriors, 14-10.

The victory, which was the fourth of five Suncoast Conference games, put the Blue Devils in a first-place tie with Suncoast, which was upset by Cardinal Newman. The win set Pahokee's overall game record at 6-2.

Jupiter took an early lead in the game with a 47-yard field goal in the first quarter. But Pahokee turned the lead around with a 76-yard drive later in that quarter that ended when quarterback Ronnie Osborne scored a touchdown on a 23-yard keeper.

The extra point kicked by Leonard Banks set the score at 7-3. The Blue Devils second score came during the second quarter on a one yard plunge over the goal by Sylvester Kelly. That touchdown ended a 65-yard drive for Pahokee.

Banks kicked the extra point again to help the Blue Devils to a 14-3 halftime lead.

Jupiter made the other score of the game during the third quarter on a seven yard run by halfback Joe Gordon, ending a 62-yard drive. The extra point attempt was good, leaving the Warriors with a 10 point end-of-game score.

Blue Devils Coach Antoine Russell said Pahokee's effective running game was responsible for the victory. Russell said Osborne threw only four times for two completions, choosing to keep the ball in Pahokee's control on the ground. Kelly led the Blue Devils rushing game with 76-yards. Osborne followed up with 73 of the team's total 206 yards.

Although Russell said Pahokee's defense was not too effective against Jupiter's option plays, three Blue Devil players were standouts. Linebacker Frank Walker made 11 tackles, while linebacker Doug Thompson intercepted a pass to kill a Jupiter drive after the Warriors had driven to the Blue Devils' 8-yard-line in the second quarter. Clint Wilson recovered a critical fumble for the Pahokee team.

Also coming up with big plays was defensive end Mandy Llorens, who knocked down three passes.

In overall statistics, Pahokee dominated Jupiter throughout the game, coming up with 206 as compared to the Warriors 87 rushing yards, and 48 to 35 passing yards.

The win Friday puts Pahokee in a race for conference leadership. "If we can beat Cardinal Newman we will be up for co-conference leaders in the Suncoast Conference West division," Russell said.

Russell's team will play Newman Friday at their opponent's field. Although he was not familiar with the team's statistics Monday, the Pahokee coach said Newman has "a really good team." "They beat us 2-3 last year," he explained.

Police arrest nine in raid capping three month investigation here

BELLE GLADE—Detectives and patrol units capped a three month investigation Monday night when they arrested nine people on a variety of drug related charges.

A total of 20 officers took part in the raid. Detective T.W. Corderman headed the investigation and the raid was coordinated by Lt.

Miller said eight of the people arrested were adults and the ninth was a 17-year old juvenile. He said four of those arrested have been arrested in other raids staged over the past two months by Belle Fifth St. on two counts of sale of marijuana and three counts of possession of less than five grams of marijuana. Bond was set at $3,000.

• Victor Hugo Marza, 21, of 654 SW Second St. on three counts of sale of marijuana, two counts of possession of more than five grams of marijuana and one count of possession of less than five grams of marijuana. Bond was set at $3,000.

cocaine, two counts of possession of cocaine, two counts of sale of marijuana and two counts of possession of less than five grams of marijuana. Bond was set at $10,000.

Miller said the juvenile was charged with one count of the sale of marijuana. No bond was required in this case since he was released to the custody of his parents.

Miller said more arrests are pending in a continuing crackdown on drugs in Belle Glade.

South Bay CD deal is innovative

SOUTH BAY—Members of the South Bay City Commission signed a financial agreement which saves the city an estimated $75,000, gives a contract to a local rather than out-of-state firm and could be a model for other cities to follow.

The four way agreement between the city, the Bank of Belle Glade, Richmond Co. and the Palm Beach County Community Development Department, allows the city to borrow money from the bank to pay Richmond for work done on a Community Development (CD) project.

Negotiations leading to the arrangement have been held for several weeks, following a recommendation by Douglas Dawson of the county CD Department.

The CD project is the second phase of an overall project meant to improve the city's water system. Only two bids were received when the city advertised, with the lowest from a Mississippi firm.

Dawson suggested the city reject both the bids, allowing the city to enter negotiations with Richmond and come up with a contract some $75,000 lower than the lowest of the two original bids. Dawson said another consideration was that Richmond is a local firm, which is more in keeping with the guidelines for CD grants.

The problem was, according to statements made in earlier city commission meetings, that Richmond needed to make draws on the contract quicker and more often than is normally allowed for.

Under the present arrangement, Richmond can make draws of up to $150,000, to be paid for by loans made to the city by the Bank of Belle Glade. An extra attraction is that the city gets a 1/2 percent discount on each payment if the payment is made by the tenth day of the month.

Public Works Director Lomax Harrelle said the arrangement is being looked at by CD officials as another financial arrangement which can be used by other communities in the future.

"This is a direct result of the cooperation between Doug Dawson and Mayor Billy Wells," Harrelle said. He said the city could be receiving more than half a million dollars over the past two year period and lauded Dawson for his cooperation with the city.

"What the CD is doing," he went on, "is one of the best government projects going."

Harrelle also brought another matter to the commission's attention which could prove beneficial to city residents. He said there will be piece of property measuring 250 feet by 150 feet which could be used for some form of recreation and the city has $12,000 which must be spent.

The property is on the site of the proposed million gallon ground storage tank for city water. The commissioners agreed to allow Barker, Osha and Anderson engineers to come up with some rough sketches on how the property might be developed as tennis courts or some other use.

In other action, the commission:

• Decided, in the light there have been problems getting clear title to the old city hall transferred to Rumfelt American Insurance Co., to segregate the property, splitting out the portion which now has the city's tennis courts.

• Rumfelt might attempt to cut the tennis courts later or could decide to let the city retain ownership of that part of the property. The commission indicated Rumfelt should pay $55,000 of the $65,000 overall buying price for the city hall.

costed by a cowardly highwayman, played by Michael Russell.

The plot thickens when Tom and Sophia both find lodgings in the same inn, inhabited by the proprietress, Mrs. Whitfield, played by Terry Lawson, and Tom's mother, played by Janice Brown.

Does the play end happily? Who is Tom's mother? Is Partridge, played by Rodney Bickel, the illegitimate boy's father? Why does Flifi, portrayed by Todd Darville, kept it a secret for so long? Does Western, played by Julio Mirabal, approve of Tom as a son?

Those questions, and more, will be answered Wednesday and Thursday evenings as the history of Tom Jones unfolds.

Letter

Dear Sir:

We would like to bring to your attention the avenue created by the lack of maintenance to the median along the newly 4-laned Main Street.

Regular mowing would not only promote healthier grass, but also enhance the appearance of our City to visitors.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Joan Thompson, President

Runners are runners-un

BELLE GLADE-Glades Central's cross country team scored runners-up Saturday in the annual District Six AAA championship meet at John Prince Park in Lake Worth and will compete in the regional championship this week at the same place.

Coach Willie McDonald said four Raiders finished in the top ten, including Robert O'Neal, who finished third with a time of 16:11; Willie Tyler, with a sixth place in 17:01; Richard Ford in seventh place with a time of 17:05 and Patrick Raymond in tenth place with a time of 17:43.

Other Raiders competing were Bobby Brereton in 14th place with a time of 14:44; Levell Moreland in 18th place with a time of 17:58 and Renard Bennett in 33rd place with a time of 19:14.

Raider girls finishing in the girls' competition were Rosa Wilkerson, who finished 12th with a time of 14:13 for two miles; Mary West in 15th place with a time of 14:47 and Shella Ashley in 17th place with a time of 16:21.

ARCHIE GODFREY (No. 30) picks up a block by Johnny Rowe as the two Glades ground-gobblers combine efforts to more than match the total rushing yardage compiled by the Martin County Tigers.

Raiders lose

The 77-yard drive ended with a nine-yard touchdown run by Rowe with 11:57 left in the game. Rowe ran a total of 51 yards in that 11-play drive. Morgan kicked the extra point and the Tiger lead was closed to 18-7.

The Raiders scored again seven minutes later, a score set up by a Martin County fumble on the Tiger 11 yard line. That score, too, was almost averted by a penalty which took the ball back from the Martin five to the 13.

The other six points were added on a 16-yard pass from Hammond to Michael Collier with 4:26 left in the game, cutting the Tiger advantage to 18-13.

Martin County's final score came at the end of a 80 yard, 13-play drive. David Deskins took the ball with one second left in the game and put it in the end zone from one foot out. The Tigers kicked their only successful PAT of the game after time ran out for the final score of 25-13.

The Raiders piled up a total 250 yards rushing compared to 59 for the Tigers and picked up another 71 yards in the air, compared to 200 for Martin County, giving the Raiders 351 yards total offense compared to 259 for the Tigers. Besides his 75 yards rushing, Godfrey caught one pass for 11 yards.

Deprived of Greg Bain, his favorite receiver (Bain's knee was hurt in the Suncoast game), quarterback Terry Hammond went twice to Michael Collier for 44 yards and one touchdown in the Raiders' weakened passing attack, and found Willie Williams once for 16 yards.

On defense, Leon Sattley led the Raiders with six tackles and three assists, followed closely by Wilford Morgan with six tackles.

Nathaniel Stinson had five tackles and three assists and Randy Burden made five tackles and two assists.

The Raiders next game scheduled at North Shore Friday has been changed to tonight to accommodate a Veteran's Day holiday.

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Day Gator junior varsity football team wound up their season on a good note this past Thursday when they defeated Kings Academy's JV 26-6.

The only touchdown Kings was able to generate came on a 70-yard kickoff return in the second quarter.

The rest of the game was all Gators. Ronnie Cameron scored early in the game on a six yard run and Gary Herick tackled on the extra point in the second quarter. Scott Meredith added a touchdown on a 6-yard run. The extra point kick was wide.

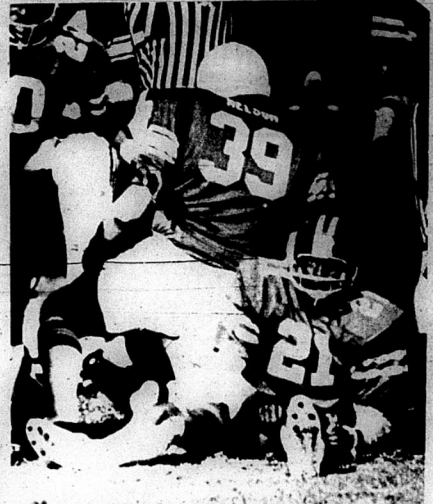

Neither team scored in the third but in the fourth, Herick scored on a 17-yard run with Cameron booting the extra point and Bart Braynon wound it up with a two yard touchdown. The kick was no good.

Glades Day generated nine first downs to Kings' two and produced 187 yards rushing and 25 passing. "We didn't get to play a whole lot of defense," said Coach Dick Schmidt. "There were only 17 tackles for our side in the whole game." Julio Rivas led the tacklers with three.

Players producing turnovers included Bryan Carter and Cameron and Schiele with an interception each and Ed McMillan with a fumble recovery.

The offense was led by Cameron with 52 yards followed by Herick with 47, Rivas 35 and Schiele 33. "We were satisfied with the performance of the players this year," said Schmidt. "We didn't have but two returning and next year, we may have as many as 15 back in action."

"SOMETIMES NOTHIN' GOES RIGHT!" could very well be the thoughts of Pahokee's Doug Thompson (21) as he nurses an injured knee in Friday night's homecoming game against the Jupiter Warriors. Thompson later intercepted a pass to kill a Jupiter drive after the Warriors had driven to the Blue Devil's 8-yard-line late in the second quarter.

Vehicles are banned from Rotenberger

By emergency action the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission Closed the Rotenberger Area to Motorized vehicles effective November 3. This restriction was enacted in addition to previous actions which closed the area to vehicles during the general hunting season.

The deer herd is currently experiencing poor health conditions, created by poor food sources and heavy parasite burdens. The problem is compounded by the fact that deer are concentrated in the elevated, northern end of Rotenberger because of deep water in the southern end.

The additional stress of being run by vehicle would prove to be too much for the already weakened deer, and vehicle operators, even with the best of intentions, may cause needless deer losses.

"The welfare of the deer has our highest priority," according to Major Louis Gaine, Regional Manager, Everglades Region. The ban on vehicles will remain in effect until the health of the deer herd has returned to normal.

The use of vehicles by Commission personnel will be curtailed to absolute minimum to enforce regulations. The major enforcement effort will be by helicopter and fixed wing aircraft. All hunters are urged to cooperate in protecting a deer herd in trouble.

Putting forth a Real effort

A child's first attempts at printing require deep concentration and great effort. However, with patience and practice he becomes more adept and lettering is easier. Then he is ready for the next step, learning to write.

The Lord expects us to put forth an effort to improve ourselves.

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Citizens invited to tree dedication

A program on Nicaraguan people and their living conditions, and plans for dedicating Lone Cypress Park were highlights of the November Calusa Valley Historical Society meeting in Moore Haven Thursday.

Oscar and Sara Grogan of Lakeport illustrated their talks with a series of color slides made during their year and a half of volunteer service in a Mission Hospital Center in Bilwasarma, during 1976-78. Details of the still primitive conditions among the Mosquito Indians who are natives and of the efforts to improve their health and education standards were shown in the series of slides.

Ben Swendsen reported that only a small amount of work remains for completing Lone Cypress Park in Moore Haven, and that a work day is set for Saturday, November 11. He invited any interested persons to bring hoe, rake, or trowel and join several Lions Club members who have volunteered to work that day. Removing wild grass and planting shrubbery is scheduled.

Plans for the public dedication at 3 p.m. Sunday November 19, were presented by Mrs. Beryl Bowden, and members voted approval upon recommendation of the executive board.

Society members voted to purchase a portable public address system, using funds it derived from sale of Lawrence Will's books in the Clewiston area.

Glades Historical Society extended an invitation to the local society to meet with them in Belle Glade Public Library December 7th. The two societies hold meetings at the same time. Kyle Van Ledingham of Fort Pierce, will be the speaker. Members voted to accept the invitation.

an eight-foot long submarine sandwich, baked beans and peach cobbler.

The highlight of the evening was a unique scavenger hunt prepared by the social committees and revealed as another mystery.

Wee Care staff members

Child care workshop given

BELLE GLADE—Staff members of Wee Care Child Development Center participated in a three day workshop Oct. 31, through Nov. 2 at the center.

The workshop was coordinated by the Child Development Associate Consortium.

CDA Consortium is a private, nonprofit corporation, located in Washington, D.C. The Consortium was established as an organization of national professional associations, and is concerned with insuring the competence of staff in child-development programs.

Barbara Trencher, a private consultant with CDA from St. Petersburg conducted the three workshops in the Glades.

Trencher stated that in the course of several years, the consortium developed a system for assessing the competence of individuals who work with young children, called the Credential Awards System, presently in its third year of operation.

Credential offers valid proof of the persons ability to work effectively with a group of children from three to five.

The CDA credential proves one's ability to demonstrate the six CDA competencies.

CDA credential is a seal of approval from the early childhood profession, represented by organizations which make up the Consortium.

And because a number of states have granted official recognition of the CDA credential, by making it one of the options by which child-care workers can meet state regulations, and the credential is a national award, giving it a professional mobility that can be moved anywhere, Trencher added.

In the process of assessment for the credential, Mrs. Trencher stated that each participant gains new awareness of the style of work with children and at the end of the assessment, each participant receives a report or composite profile of their strengths and weaknesses and a series of suggestions for improving the participant's work with children.

During the three day workshop Wee Care staff members participated in a number of individualized instructional, settings with Wee Care students.

Mrs. Sarah Federick, a member of the Administrative staff stated, the Wee Care Center is the first Child Development Center in the Glades to enroll with the CDA Consortium, and Tuesday the staff introduced Trencher to other Glades educators at a luncheon at the center.

Educators attending were Gloria

Darville, Migrant Education, Mercedes Robinson, West Area Administrative Office PBOS, Dr. Edna G. Greer, principal of Glades Central High School, Deloris Johnson, PDC Coordinator, Caroline Watts, Early Childhood Education, Joseph Perry, counselor Gove Elem., Iraida Ruiz, administrative staff Wee Care and William Greer, director of Wee Care.

Mrs. Federick stated also that 19 Wee Care staff members, 14 CETA employees and 110 students participated in the three day workshop.

Sugar crop insurance becoming available

BELLE GLADE—Federal crop insurance is available for sugar growers according to Marie L. Wilkins, acting CED with the Palm Beach County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Committee.

Mrs. Wilkins said the crop insurance is now offered by FCIC (Federal Crop Insurance Corp.) and agency of the US Department of Agriculture.

"Any type of sugar cane (plant cane and stubble)," Mrs. Wilkins said, "is insurable if it is grown for processing sugar. Insurance will not cover cane cut for seed."

She said the insurance provided is against unavoidable loss of production resulting from drought, earthquake, excessive rain, fire, flood, freeze, frost, hail, hurricane, insect infestation, lightning, plant disease, tornado, wildlife, wind and any other unavoidable cause of loss due to adverse weather conditions occurring within the insurance period.

"If a policy holder does not have a loss," Mrs. Wilkins said, "discounts will be earned on the premium."

While announcing the crop insurance, Mrs. Wilkins also said it isn't too late for Glades farmers to sign up for federal cost-share assistance under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). She said anyone interested in signing up for the program can be done by stopping by the Belle Glade ASCS office and making a request before beginning conservation work.

Annual Cane League meet is Nov. 20

CLEWISTON—The Annual Membership meeting of the Florida Sugar Cane League, Inc. will be held Nov. 20 at the Clewiston Inn.

This year's guest speaker will be Dr. Howard Hjort, director of economics, political analysis and budget with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Dr. Hjort is a prominent sugar policy advisor in the Carter administration.

October rainfall is low

BELLE GLADE—A lighter-than-usual amount of rainfall recorded for October almost cleaned the slate for the year's precipitation, leaving less than an inch in excess of the year's average with two months to go.

Dr. Robert Allen at the Agricultural Research and Education Center said a total of 3.85 inches of rain fell last month, compared to a 53 year average of 4.66 inches, leaving an excess of .81 inches for 1978's first ten months.

Allen said a total of 54.07 inches of rain have fallen so far this year compared to the 53 year average of 53.26 inches, bringing the 54 year average up to 53.27 inches.

Conservation districts are not just for farmers

The Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District and its functions was the after dinner topic at Thursday's noon meeting of the Pahokee Rotary Club.

According to guest speaker Fred John, the chairman of the board of the Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District, the organization was set up in the early 1960s to conserve soil and water - mainly to help farmers. The organization now provides technical assistance on soil and water problems to anyone who files an application.

Such assistance can include information on how to implement special projects (such as building and stocking a fishing pond), resource conservation planning, flood prevention and soil analysis.

Soil and water conservation districts (SWCD), work closely with the Soil Conservation Service (SCS), and the services provided by those organizations are free of charge.

Since the Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District is a governmental body, its five directors are elected by the public, John explained.

At first, directors were elected by the "cracker box" method, which involved placing ballot boxes at various businesses and conducting informal poll, he said. However, in the early 1970s a Fort Lauderdale woman challenged that procedure in court, won the suit, and had the election for soil and water conservation district supervisors placed on the ballots in general state elections.

"She then ran against one of the SWCD members and won," John said.

The SWCD director contends that the organization began to "go downhill" after candidates for the district's supervisors were put on the general election. Unqualified persons had a better chance of being elected, he explained.

In the "cracker box" election system, only farmers and persons interested in the SWCD usually voted, he said. In general elections, persons who are not familiar with the organization often vote for candidates they know nothing about - sometimes picking the first names on the ballot or a name which is familiar to them.

John explained that he was defeated in the recent SWCD election by one of three Broward County men who campaigned for the unsalaried office.

However he managed to retain his position for the coming term with the passage of a referendum on the ballot which authorized making separate SWCDs of Palm Beach and Broward Counties as of January, 1979.

John said separate soil and water conservation districts will help insure that each county gets more of what it wants from the program.

The Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District is currently governed by three directors from Palm Beach County and two from Broward County. John said that is an equitable proportion since Palm Beach County has a larger population than Broward County.

However, had the referendum not passed, come January, Broward County would have been represented by four directors, and Palm Beach County by one.

Some of the problems combined Palm Beach - Broward County district have caused were:

- Geographical. Some members currently have to travel 100 miles to go to and from meetings. On a busy day, a director might have to miss a meeting;

- Different objectives. Broward County is almost entirely urbanized. In Palm Beach County, agriculture is still the No. 1 concern; and

- Financing. Each district is a governmental entity which must have operating funds. Palm Beach County, last year, contributed about $28,000 to the district budget; Broward County contributed about $5,000.

In addition to being chairman of the board of the Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District, John is a Belle Glade Rotarian and general manager of the South Florida Conservancy District, Pahokee Water Control District, Pelican Lake Water Control District, East Beach Water Control District, and the East Shore Water Control District.

Carter should lead says Farm Bureau

ORLANDO — President Carter should lead America to economic freedom and away from socialistic pressures, according to Walter J. Kautz, president of Florida Farm Bureau Federation (FFBF). Kautz made his remarks in his annual report to members at FFBF's 37th annual convention at the Sheraton Twin Towers in Orlando.

Kautz told more than 1,000 FFBF delegates that President Carter can become a great president by leading the taxpayers revolt begun in California under Proposition 13. He should reject any further socialistic proposals such as a National Health Plan fostered by Ted Kennedy and others.

"If President Carter could lead Congress to a balanced budget and withstand the avalanche of protests of those needlessly draining our national resources, he would go down in history as a savior of democracy and free enterprise," Kautz said.

"American taxpayers work 131 days a year from Jan. 1 to May 1, or two hours and 52 minutes a day, to pay local, state and federal taxes," he said. "Return on money is the question that must be pursued."

Kautz told the large farming audience that if the taxpayers and Florida farmers really want to revolt, they need to turn their wrath on elected members of Congress. It is they who continue to pour billions of dollars into an endless number of programs in the face of reported graft and waste. Congress needs a house cleaning to stop the waste of our taxes. "Now is the time when elections are going on for taxpayers to vote their convictions," he said.

In the face of a Congress that refuses to listen to taxpayers, people all around the U.S. need to get behind a united effort to pass a Constitutional Amendment prohibiting deficit spending, except during periods of national emergency," said Kautz. "Deficit spending and inflation go hand in hand forcing taxpayers to pay taxes at a higher rate."

"Unless U.S. taxpayers move forward, following the examples of those in California, a golden opportunity will be lost with the result of further despair and frustration," said Kautz. "This must not happen. The time is ripe for those who have the will to act. The time is now. Apathy brings defeat. Participation by people brings results and victory. The future of our nation and its people hangs in the balance. 'It lies in the hands and will of its people,'" concluded Kautz.
